DIVORCE OF GOULDS

Wife Shows Hazy Memory on Witness Stand Yesterday.

WAS WITH WILD WEST SHOW

Husband's Attorney Brought Out Astonishing Extravagance—Thousands Paid for Pearl Rope and Costly Finery.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 11.—What appeared to be hazy memory of Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould today brought a rebuke from Supreme Court Justice Dowling, who is hearing her suit for separation against her husband, Howard Gould. Mrs. Gould will probably remain on the stand throughout tomorrow.

As uncertain as was the witness' memory at times, she did not fail to take advantage of that very fact when occasion twice offered. Once she apologized for her inability to tell whether certain restaurant checks were hers or not, saying that she was interested in knowing "How her husband spent his money," and again when she could not tell whether a diamond pendant valued at $13,300 had been bought by her or her husband "for another."

Delancy Nicoll, Mr. Gould's counsel, protested vigorously against this insinuation and Justice Dowling with some asperity ordered it stricken from the record.

The amounts of assorted jewels, tailors' costumes, and bootmakers' bills continued to make the spectators admitted to the court room gasp and stare. The articles purchased included the pearl rope which the witness wore yesterday and today, listed at $27,000; the disputed pendant at $13,300, a diamond chain at $22,000; a diamond diadem at $24,000, and a sapphire ring at $6,000. Such little things as $500 worth of silk stockings at a time or $1,528 for shoes were trivial by comparison. Five tailor-made suits were ordered at a cost of $5,807.

"What was the total amount of the articles you purchased on Mr. Goul's credit in 1907?" began Mr. Nicoll, as soon after the court room came to order.

"I couldn't tell you," was the reply. "I have never seen all of the bills."

Starting on January 1, 1907, you did purchase a large amount of goods in his name?"

"Yes."

"That continued until 1908, or until Mr. Gould made a voluntary payment of about $2,000 a month?"

"I don't know about the time unless that was the time Mr. Gould advertised that he would not be responsible for debts contracted by me," replied the witness.

Mrs. Gould identified a letter which had passed between counsel for both sides. It was dated November 23, 1907, and was addressed to Mr. Shearn. It went on to say that Mrs. Gould had run up $70,773.51 worth of bills in that year. Notice was given that responsibility for these bills would not be continued by the defendant. The alimony allowance of $25,000 was to be paid to Mrs. Gould in monthly installments.

"I have not the slightest idea of the correctness of these bills," declared Mrs. Gould, "after the letter had been read.

There were bills, bills, bills and then more bills; bills for finery and for necessities, jewels, lingerie and gifts for servants. Some of them Mrs. Gould could identify as hers, others she could not.

In striking contrast to this glitter of luxurious articles was Mrs. Gould's testimony that at times at Castle

TWO LYNCHED AT SMOAKS

Five Hundred Men Strung Up Two Men in South Carolina Town. Charged With Murder of White Man.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Branchville, S. C., June 11.—A telephone message from Smoaks, 10 miles from here, states that Quillie Simmons and Frank Samuels, arrested there today charged with the murder of young Ben Smoaks two weeks ago, were lynched this afternoon by a mob of over 500. The victims are negroes.

The report here is that Constable Maxey who arrested the men at Smoaks had started for Walterboro with his prisoners but was overtaken by the mob and forced to return to Smoaks. There the mob took the two negroes from the officers, carried them to a point near the railroad track and hanged them to a tree, afterwards riddling their bodies with shot.

It is said that the two negroes made a partial confession but denied doing the actual shooting.

The lynching occurred about 10 o'clock tonight. So far as is known this is the first lynching in the history of Colleton county.

A SERIOUS EARTHQUAKE.

Eight Persons Killed and Much Damage Wrought—Searching Debris.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Marseilles, June 11.—Two earthquake shocks, running from northeast to southwest, were felt throughout the Riviera between 9 and 11 o'clock tonight. While the damage done here was not great, reports from smaller cities show that the effects of the second shock were serious.

At Lambezo, a town of 2,500 inhabitants, 12 miles northwest of Aix, several houses collapsed and eight persons are reported to have been killed. Troops were immediately hurried there to search in the debris for possible dead or injured persons.

Several buildings also fell at Enguilles and at Aix a vermicelli factory was partially demolished. The disturbance extinguished the arc lamps in the street and broke crockery and window panes.

FOUND BODY IN SEWER.

Unearthed by Workmen in Charlotte. Disappeared Last May.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Charlotte, N. C., June 11.—The dead body of E. V. Moore, who disappeared mysteriously the night of May 19, 1909, was unearthed today by workmen excavating for a sewer extension in Dilworth, a suburb. Moore quarreled with a stranger at the fair grounds the night of his disappearance and was supposed to have been murdered and the body hid.

Personal effects were found on the same spot the next day but no clue to the body nor any trace of the missing man was unearthed until today. The sewer excavation was open at the time and the police think that he may have fallen into it while intoxicated. He left a widow and two children, and the body was turned over to the family for burial.

Jenkins county, Ga., had its first hanging yesterday at Millen, the victim being Jim Jones, a negro murderer. His neck failed to break when Sheriff Edenfield pulled the trigger and he was allowed to hang thirty minutes until strangled to death.

SEABOARD RE-ORGANIZED

Definite Action Toward Dissolution of Receivership Taken—Issue and Sale of Income Bonds. Statement.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 11.—Definite action toward the dissolution of the Seaboard Air Line Railway Company receivership was taken here today. Although no official statement was issued, it was learned that the general re-organization committee had met and practically agreed upon a plan of re-organization by which foreclosure of the property is to be avoided and the eixsting first mortgage 4 per cent. bonds will remain undisturbed.

Money to pay off the receivers' certificates and other immediate obligations will be raised by the issue and sale of income bonds. It is expected that the re-organization will be effected without assessing either the preferred or common shares.

It is planned to retire $3,000,000 of the collateral trusts 3-year and 10-year 5 per cent. notes before maturity. As now outlined, $3,000,000 are to be called on December 1st, and $4,250,000 on January 1, 1910, thereby automatically terminating the receivership. The plan also provides for the dissolution of the voting trust on January 1, 1910. A saving of not less than 20 per cent. in fixed charges is expected under the proposed plan.

An official statement embodying all these details will probably be issued next week.

The banking houses associated with the re-organization committee include Hallgarten & Co., and Blair & Co.

Hix to Become President.

Raleigh, N. C., June 11.—It is learned upon the best of authority that C. H. Hix, general superintendent of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, will succeed W. A. Garrett as president of the road. Mr. Garrett will sever his connection with the railroad on June 30th, and it is expected that the duties of the president will be assumed by him immediately thereafter. Mr. Garrett resigns to become vice president of the T. H. Symington Company, of Baltimore, Md., manufacturers of railroad specialties. Mr. Hix is well known in this city and throughout the State and section.

His career in the service of the Seaboard is the story of a man of ability and of today. He is about 45 years of age. He began his connection with the road as a station telegraph operator. From this he began train dispatcher and then train master. This led to his promotion to the position of division superintendent and the latter to that of general superintendent. It is now regarded as a practically certainty that he will be the next president of the road. He is a native of Nelson county, Va.

LINER IS WRECKED

Over 400 Persons Rescued From Cunard Steamer Slavonia.

STRANDED IN THE AZORES

Cunarder Was Bound From New York to Naples—Timely Aid Rendered by Lloyd and Hamburg Liners—Passengers.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 11.—News reached New York this afternoon that the Cunard Liner Slavonia bearing 110 cabin and 300 steerage passengers, stranded today off Flores Island in the Azores group. After having steamed successfully more than half way across the Atlantic the vessel, which left this port for Naples on June 3rd is tonight almost a complete wreck, but, thanks to the timely aid rendered by the North German Lloyd Liner Prinzess Irene and Hamburg American Liner Batavia, which were nearby, every passenger, according to best reports here, was taken off in safety.

Both rescuing liners were also bound for Naples.

First reports that the Cunarder had run aground reached here shortly before 4 o'clock in a message dated Velas, Azores Islands, to the North German Lloyd from Captain Potersen of the Princess Irene saying: "Took on board Princess Irene 110 cabin passengers from S. S. Slavonia at Southwest of Flores Island. The 300 steerage passenger on Batavia. Slavonia probably total wreck."

When the foregoing was received the Cunard line office here had no advices whatsoever and it heard first of the accident through the North German Lloyd.

Among the few of the Slavonia's passengers whose addresses were learned tonight are Professor and Mrs. George Griffin Brownell and Miss Brownell, of Alabama. Professor Brownell has been attached to the University of Alabama at Tuscaloose since 1898. Another passenger was Miss Mary O. Ware, thought to be from Birmingham, Ala. The transfer of passengers was no doubt accomplished with the usual thrills and dangers attendant to the shifting of nervous human being at sea.

The Slavonia is a twin screw steamship of 10,606 gross tonnage. She is 510 feet long, with a 50 foot bean and is 22 fcet deep. The vessel is comparatively new, having been built at Sunderland, England in 1903.

CALHOUN CASE NEARING END

Taking of Evidence Abruptly Concluded—Heney Talks About Congress.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

San Francisco, June 11.—The taking of testimony in the Calhoun case abruptly terminated this afternoon, the defense announcing its desire to submit its case to the jury without argument. The prosecution, however, opposed this and arguments will be begun next Monday.

Assistance District Attorney Heney, who asked the court for permission to show that Abraham Ruef was conceded to be the "boss" of San Francisco during the administration of Mayor Schmitz, was denied the privilege after a stirring debate.

In the course of his argument Heney said: "For instance, how do I get the idea that the Congress of the United States has acted corruptly in the matter of the tariff? In the works of an English ambassador, who is acknowledged by a great majority of our citizens to be fair, this charge is made he further says that a great number of members of the United States Senate bought their way into that body."

The Sloan bill putting a ban on race track gambling in Florida became law yesterday when Governor Gilchrist affixed his signature. The new law provides penalties for the holders of bets as well as the gamblers. The provisions of the law will not be effective until May 1, 1911.

WORDS OVER TARIFF

Bitter Personalities Among Republican Senators Over Woolen Schedule.

LA FOLLETTE HITS ALDRICH

Declares Rhode Island Senator Has Forfeited Confidence of Entire Republican Party—Income Tax Postponed Until June 18.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 11.—Income tax shared with the wool schedule the attention of the Senate during the day's sitting of that body and after discussion of an hour or more its further consideration was postponed until June 18. This action was the result of a motion made by Senator Aldrich, which followed a charge by Senator Bailey that undue influence was being brought to bear against the proposed income tax amendment to the tariff bill. Mr. Aldrich declared that he knew of no such effort, but pleaded for the postponement of the question until the schedules should be disposed of.

Late in the day the Senate refused by the decisive vote of 59 to 8 to recommit the wool schedule to the committee on finance on motion of Mr. Cummins, and thus finally concluded the consideration of that schedule. Only the progressive Republicans supported the motion. This vote followed a long and animated discussion of the schedule which was interspersed with many personalities.

Openly declaring his opinion that Senator Aldrich had lost the confidence of other Republican Senators, which a leader should have, Senator LaFollette made a determined fight to compel the adoption of amendments to the wool schedule of the tariff bill which were yesterday presented by himself. There were two dozen or more of these proposed modifications, and they were intended to consolidate into one class, classes one and two of the present wool schedule, relating to raw wools, and to fix an ad valorem rate of 45 per cent., while the present third class was transformed into the second class and a rate of 25 per cent. provided, the intention being to substitute ad valorem for mixed specific and ad valorem duties, and to effectuate a general reduction of duties.

These amendments were before the Senate for two or three hours and were the subject of favoring speeches by their author and by Senator Cummings but notwithstanding the earnest advocacy of these Senators, they went down before the majority which right along has stood for the finance committees work, the vote being 44 against the amendment to 32 for them.

It was after this vote had been taken that the Wisconsin Senator made his assertion that by his course with reference to the woolen schedule, Mr. Aldrich had forfeited the position of leadership. The Rhode Island Senator made no reply to this angry denunciation by his Wisconsin colleague, but the latter was called to order by Senator Gallinger, who complained that Mr. LaFollette had transcended the Senatorial rule regulating personal allusions in the Senate. Mr. Gallinger declared that in his entire experience he had never hard so many accusations of legislatorial trickery. Mr. LaFollette accepted the official rebuke good naturedly but he did not fail to pointout the fact that the rule had not always been applied.

Senator Cummins was also somewhat severe on Chairman Aldrich and in the course of his remarks, declared that the Senatorial leaders were courtign the destruction of the Republican party by their course with reference to the duties on wool and woolens.

Late during the day's session, Senator Bacon forced votes on two amendments of his reducing to thirty per cent ad valorem the duty on wool and woolen goods, but he failed to obtain the support of any of the Republican Senators, even the progressives refusing to follow him to the extent indicated by his amendments.

Progress at Night Session.

Taking for consideration the free list, the Senate at the night session made considerable progress. The duty on cut diamonds and other precious stones was increased to 15 per cent. ad valorem and placed a duty of five per cent. ad valorem on uncut diamonds. Hides and refined petroleum were not disposed of.

Savannah Capitalist Unable to Get Her to Return to America.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 11.—John Wright Hunt, of Savannah, Ga., capitalist, returned from Paris today on the Mauretania and told of an estrangement between his wife and himself and of her admiration for a Russian, Alexander Andre Tgherniadieff, who she met in Paris. Mrs. Hunt was formerly Miss Henrietta Babcock of Detroit, Mich. She met the Russian at a Paris Hotel and soon afterward left her husband. An interview failed to effect a reconciliation and Mr. Hunt returned to America without her.

REGIMENTAL ENCAMPMENT

Advisory Board of National Guard So Decides—Rule As To Pardons. Leaf Tobacco Sales—Cotton Mill Chartered—Notes.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 11.—That there will be regimental encampments this Summer at Morehead was the determination reached today by the advisory board of the guard in conference with Governor Kitchin and Adjutant General Armfield. It is found that the encampments can be held in spite of the fact that supplies costing $80,000 must be provided by January to put the guard on a regular army basis. The encampments will be seven days each of the three reguments, the second to go in camp July 5th, the third July 15th and the first August 1st.

Governor Kitchin honors a requisition on the Governor of Florida for Grant Devault, alias Charles Yondell, wanted in Florida for forgery. He is in jail at Fayetteville.

Governor Kitchin has changed in several important respects the rules governing applications for pardons, commutations and reprieves. Briefly stated they are as follows: Applications must be by parties convicted or some one in his behalf, accompanied by a concise statement of facts, and specific grounds for executive clemency; must be accompanied by transcript of record of court, including bill of indictment, verdict and judgment; notice must be published in county paper, or posted in prescribed manner and form; private prosecutor, if any, must be notified of intended application for pardon; recommendations from the trial judge and solicitor must be presented or statement as to why not obtained. After refusal of application there will be no further hearing unless there are some new facts and then there must be a republication.

The loose leaf tobacco sales by the warehouses in North Carolina for the month of May are reported by the State department of agriculture to have aggregated 542,692, first hand Then there were sales for dealers and resales that ran the total up to 494,050. May is, of course, always characterized by about the least sales of the whole tobacco year. Winston-Salem led again this time her sales aggregating 267,862. Reidsville was second with 136,428.

The Bertie Cotton Oil Mills Co., capital $100,000 authorized and $20,000 subscribed by Hon. C. W. Mitchell and others, received a charter today for cotton seed oil, fertilizer and other products of the cotton seed. Another charter is to the Jackson County Journal Co., Sylvia, Jackson county. The capital is $10,000 authorized and $1,000 subscribed by M. Buchanan and others.

At the conference of Charities and Correction in Buffalo, N. Y., yesterday the welfare of rural communities, and juvenile courts and their inestimable value as a reform agency were discussed. John C. Campbell, of the Russell Sage foundation, of Demorest, Ga., delivered an address on "Investigations in Southern Mountains." St. Louis secured next year's convention.

In a tornado at Leuders, Texas, on Thursday night, four persons were killed, two others were fatally hurt, 13 houses were wrecked and scores of cattle killed.

ROBERT H. WRIGHT ELECTED

Will Become President of Eastern Carolina Teachers' Training School at Greenville, N. C. Trustees in Session.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Greenville, N. C., June 11.—At a meeting here today of the Board of Trustees of the Eastern Carolina Teachers' Training School, Prof. Robert H. Wright, formerly of Coharrie, Sampson county, but for the past several years principal of the City High Schools of Baltimore, Md., was elected president of the college and arrangements were made for the opening of the institution early in September.

Prof. Wright has taken quite a high stand in the educational affairs of Maryland and is president of the State High School Teachers' Association of Maryland and vice president of the State Teachers' Association of that State. He graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1897 and has had several years' experience in school work, his election being regarded as a fortunate one for the new institution which will be to the east what the State Normal at Greensboro is to the west. The buildings and equipment cost $150,000 and these are now rapidly nearing completion, the inspection today having been by State Superintendent Joyner, J. O. Carr, Esq., of Wilmington, and other members of the Board of Trustees. Some other members of the faculty were also elected by the trustees today but their names will not be given out until their acceptances are in hand.

In a rather slow and unsatisfactory game, the lack of satisfaction being largely due to erratic decisions by Umpire Carter, the locals won the game from the Railroaders yesterday by the score of two to nothing, rain threatening to break up the exhibition from start to finish.

Conn, a new acquisition from Philadelphia for the receiving end of the Sailor firing line, was the bright, particular star of the game and has already won a place in the hearts of the local bugs. He has a wing that is good for a safe throw to any part of the lot, is pleasing in appearance and puts ginger in his game, which has been sadly lacking in the team organization heretofore.

The runs yesterday were let in during Wilmington's half of the fourth and were started by a long two-base hit by Smith, a brace of singles by Brodie and Kite and a wild throw by Walsh to second base. Rocky Mount had an excellent chance to score in the seventh when Krebs hit down third base line for two bases and Walsh dropped a Texas Leaguer over second. James filling the bases by hitting to first safely after one man was down. Sorrell batting for Lambert, hit down third base line and Krebs was called out at home for interference and Walsh was declared out by Howard, who, however, failed to touch his man out of sight of the umpire. The score should really have been two to one, but the "umps" didn't see, and called Walsh out. Howard pitched a splendid game and allowed but four hits. Forbes for the Railroaders allowed but five, but four errors behind him was hardly calculated to win, one of them which netted runs being by Manager Walsh.

Johnson first up popped out to Sharp; Hemp out, Howard to Nichols; Krebs flew out to short. Wilmington: Sharp out, second to first; Accorsini hit by pitched ball; Smith sacrificed and Brodie flew out to left.

Second—Walsh was hit by pitched ball; O'Gara popped out to catcher; Walsh out trying to steal second; James drew a pass, but was caught at stealing second. Wilmington: Levy and Nichols fanned; Jayes out, short to first.

Third—Lambert and Moran fanned; Forbes out, second to first. Wilmington: Conn out, pitcher to first; Howard flew out to centre; Sharp to right.

Fourth—Johnson safe on error of Sharp; Hemp walked; Krebs and Walsh fanned; O'Gara fouled out to first. Wilmington: Accorsini fanned; Smith hit to centre for two bases; Brodie singled to left; Levy up and Brodie went to second on wild throw of Walsh while Smith scored; Brodie went to third on passed ball; Levy singled through short and Brodie scored; Nichols was hit by pitched ball; Jayes hit to third and Nichols was thrown out at second, Levy on third; Conn flew out to third.

Fifth—James flew to Jayes; Lambert flew out on running back catch of Smith; Moran fouled out to third. Wilmington: Howard fanned; Sharp safe on juggle of the ball by short; Accorsini up and Sharp out at second; Accorsini flew out to short.

Sixth—Forbes out, third to first; Johnson safe on wild throw of Howard; Hemp up and Johnson was caught at second; Hemp fanned. Wilmington: Smith out, third to first; Brodie popped out to first; Levy flew out to centre.

Seventh—Krebs hit down third base line for two bases; Walsh dropped a Texas Leaguer over second; O'Gara popped out to first; James filled the bases on a hit to first with no one on base; Sorrell batting for Lambert hit down third base line and Krebs was called out for running out of third base line; Walsh caught by Howard. GOOD ROAD TO SOUTHPORT.

It is gratifying to note that the press all over North Carolina is alive to the importance of good roads. The daily and weekly newspapers are incessantly hammering at it, and the results are being felt in all directions. Good roads bonds are being voted in numerous counties and when the money gets into circulation from the various road and school bonds which have been voted it ought to make times flush. It will not only give employment to large numbers of people but it will make permanent improvements that will increase the advantages for agriculture and country home life.

The Southport Herald, published in the county seat of our neighboring county of Brunswick, one of the most isolated regions in Eastern North Carolina, has recognized the importance of the good roads movement and is putting in some good work to stir up the people of Brunswick. In its last issue the Herald contains this excellent editorial:

"Davidson county, this State, is to vote an issue of $500,000 in bonds for the improvement of her public roads. That is certainly progressing some, and if the people of that county are not so foolish as to vote down the issue they are going to have in the course of a few years, not one of the finest and richest counties in the State, but the finest and richest. But they are a progressive and wide awake people up in that section of the State and they can see beyond the ends of their noses. They realize that next to the railroad comes the good road. Both are great developers."

"What Brunswick county ought to do is to build a good road between Wilmington and Southport. The development along that road would be wonderful and farmers who live ten or twelve or fifteen miles from Wilmington could have their produce to that market every day if necessary or if they wished, where now perhaps they never go overland to Wilmington, very seldom otherwise because they have nothing to market. A road of this kind would be one of the finest things imaginable for Southport. We would not be able to accommodate the Summer visitors which would come here, especially Wilmington people who would come down in the evening by automobile and return the next morning. In an ordinarily fast machine the distance between the two places could be traveled in about an hour, or pretty nearly as fast as a train and an automobile line between here and Wilmington would be one of the very best paying investments imaginable."

The Herald makes an excellent suggestion about that automobile road from Wilmington to Southport and The Star is pleased to heartily endorse the suggestions and co-operate in the movement. We hope the people of Brunswick will get a move on them.

CITY BUILDING WORK.

Wilmington is not the only North Carolina city which has decided to make renewed efforts towards city building. Our own organization is preparing for an effective campaign and is getting ready to work in a systematic way to encourage new industries, invite new enterprises and induce people to come to Wilmington in order to avail themselves of our city's numerous advantages for business, manufacturing and residence purposes.

Winston-Salem is to join the movement for city building. A club is to be organized in that city to be known as the Hundred Thousand Club. Its purpose will be to raise the population of Winston-Salem to that figure. The intention is to enroll every citizen as a member of the club, and the organization is to be a strong one, conducted apart from the Board of Trade now in existence.

Our Winston-Salem friends mean business, for it is stated that the Hundred Thousand Club will have a handsome magazine as its organ and will send several thousand copies throughout the country where they are likely to do the most good.

WHERE DO CONSUMERS COME IN?

On Thursday the following dispatch was sent out from Winston-Salem, North Carolina's great tobacco manufacturing centre:

"The Tobacco Board of Trade today appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions to be submitted to the Senators and Congressmen from this State, protesting against the enactment of the bill now pending in Congress, allowing the producers to retail their tobacco in raising the tax on manufactured tobacco. One of the alleged disadvantages of retailing tobacco would be over-production which would mean extremely low prices."

The consumers of the weed can't see where the argument comes in against lower tobacco, while the producer, the farmer who grows tobacco, will favor the bill because it will enable him to get more for his crop than he otherwise would. It is a pity that there cannot be some solution of the problem that would be to the advantage of all concerned. Is it possible?

It is announced that Miss M. Vanderbilt is soon to wed Prince Francis Joseph, of the Austrian Court. Her father, a cablegram says, "is at present in Vienna in order to bring the affair, which has long been in abeyance, to a conclusion." Here's hoping that he can make the best bargain he can in order to put an end to that "abeyance."

A Seneca Indian chief who visited New York a few days ago complained to the police that he was robbed of $2 by highwaymen on Brooklyn bridge. Two dollars nothing! He should remember that he got off light compared with his ancestors who had to fork over the whole continent in large installments as the white man needed it in his business.

We have recently had several items about men rifling the mail pouches, blowing safes, looting banks, and Blackhand methods, but our readers should bear in mind that these small matters just have to be chronicled even if they don't compare in the least with the news from Washington about the tariff steal.

Senators Aldrich and Lodge talk like they thought the tariff plank in the Republican platform was written in cipher and that they are the only ones who hold the key to translate it among the friends of the protective tariff.

Who is America's greatest living statesman?" inquires a writer. Everybody can take a crack at the answer except Ex-President Roosevelt who would regard the question as entirely too personal.

"It is announced that cigars may be made of alfalfa," remarks the Columbia State. Before we'd smoke any such things as alfafa cigars we'll go right on puffing cabbage leaf colorado punkadoras.

The accounts of June weddings in the State press indicate that the like of marriages was never known." This shows that confidence has been restored in North Carolina as well as in Wall street.

A mad actor in New York stabbed himself. He must have been taking the view of the audience about the way he played his part.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Diversified manufacturing is also important as well as diversified farming. It isn't wise to put all the eggs in one basket. Salisbury is to have a factory for manufacturing mantels. It is the small and varied industries that made New England.—Raleigh News and Observer.

—Richmond dispatches represent Virginia girls as highly enthusiastic over reports that many young Americans in the Philippines want wives. There would be little use for these Philippine expatriates to make inquiries in North Carolina, however. No surplus for export exists here after the home demand has been supplied.—Charlotte Observer.

—There are too many people in almost every town who will not cast their bread upon the waters, unless assured beforehand that it will come back again in a few days a full grown sandwich, all trimmed with ham, butter and mustard, rolled up in a warranty deed for one-half the earth and a mortgage on the other half.—Mt. Olive Tribune.

—The days are past when the doodlebug can kick the dirt from his hole in happiness and security without fear of being crushed by the cruel foot of man, and the whippoorwill can no longer claim the silent night for his audience in this part of good old Robeson county, for we are alive and alert, and are keeping fully abreast of the onward movement of progressiveness.—Fairmont Messenger.

—The slops about somebody trying to drive Senator Simmons out of the Democratic party because Democratic papers criticise his tariff record makes no impression. Nobody is going to be allowed to play the martyr. A public man's record is public property and is a subject of criticism. Nobody is trying to drive anybody out of the Democratic party. Some Democrats are insisting that Democrats in Congress shall not speak for and vote for protection. Are they to be proscribed for that?—Raleigh News and Observer.

—What W. J. Bryan has to say about the representatives in Congress who deserted Democratic principles will, of course, be a red flag at a bull, to many good people in the ranks of the party, but the fact remains that Bryan is the strongest, clearest and most able exponent of Democratic principles since Calhoun, and that all of his principles and policies start consistently from the tap root of free government in the interest of the masses of the people. That is why his leadership is so unpopular, and why he is so very much misrepresented, that the masses, in whose interest he is working, might be prejudiced against him. He stands for the benefits in government coming to the governed directly rather than secondarily through special privileges extended to capital. That is really the essence of the difference between the Democrats and the Republicans, and a Republican cannot be a Democrat or a Democrat a Republican any more than black can be white. Principles cannot stand compromise nor be supplanted by expediency.—Florence (S. C.) Times.

TWINKLINGS.

"We have one that's more than visible—she's conspicuous."—Chicago Tribune.

—"You are charged with having violently assaulted the plaintiff while in a public resort. What have you to say?" "Judge, the orchestra was rendering the 'Sextette' from 'Lucia,' and that fellow sat right behind me and persisted in whistling it through his teeth." "The prisoner is discharged. The plaintiff is fined $11 for action calculated to provoke an assault."—The Commoner.

Death In Various Forms.

A crank came running into the office and said that a man swallowed a two foot rule and died by inches. The editor started out at once to learn further particulars of the death and, meeting Dr. Martin, told him about the case. He said that was nothing; that he had a patient once who swallowed a thermometer and died by degrees. A couple of bystanders just then chipped in. One of them said it reminded him of a fellow in Kansas who swallowed a pistol and went off easy. The other one said he had a friend who took a quart of applejack and died in good spirits.—Exchange.

Kissing the Book.

"Kissing the book" is a rather late development of the mere touching of the gospels with the fingers, which dates from the sixth century. It is likely that the kiss was originally intended not to increase the solemnity of the oath, but to signify reverence and affection for the book. The kiss appears to have come into fashion toward the end of the sixteenth century and would seem, from what George Fox says of it, to have been a Protestant innovation. According to him, the unreformed method was simply to hold the gospels with three fingers above the book, typifying the Trinity, and two fingers below, typifying the twofold destruction of body and soul that an oath taker invoked upon himself if he swore falsely.

Politics and Poker.

A man who dips into politics occasionally may be compared to a man who engages in a poker game occasionally. He is liable to run into a professional and be worsted. The safe rule is to keep out of politics and poker.—Atchison Globe.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE.

Its Fearful and Deadly Work In the Bremerhaven Explosion.

The greatest fatality ever caused by an infernal machine is known as the Bremerhaven explosion, and it occurred near the end of 1875, when a fellow who called himself Thomas and was said to be an American took up his residence with his family in Bremen. His finances were at a low ebb, and to replenish them he conceived the idea of sending to America some worthless but highly insured packages of goods. By the same vessel he intended to ship an infernal machine, which was to have exploded a few days after the vessel had left port. The explosion occurred, however, just before the package was put on board, causing terrible loss of life.

Thomas, whose real name was said to be Alexander, charged his machine with nitroglycerin, which he had procured in America and purchased the clockwork and the case containing the machine in Germany. The hammer of the clockwork, which was to act in six days after leaving port, was to strike a blow of thirty pounds weight. In his confession later Thomas said that when testing the clockwork the hammer smashed a mahogany table.

He sent the contrivance to Bremerhaven to be shipped on the Mosel for New York via Southampton. He himself took passage to the latter port, where he had arranged to ship his cases of rubbish for New York. The Mosel was to leave Bremerhaven on Saturday, Dec. 11, and on that day the infernal machine was sent to the dock, which was crowded with porters, passengers and their friends. For some reason that has never been explained the heavy case slipped from the crane on to the wharf as it was being lifted up the ship's side, and the charge was instantly exploded. Death and destruction were dealt around, 128 men, women and children being instantly killed, while fifty-six others were terribly wounded.

Thomas was waiting on board the ship to receive his case and see it stowed away in the hold, but right after the explosion he went to his cabin, locked the door and shot himself in the head with a revolver.

He lingered for several days in the hospital and made a full confession before he died.—Exchange.

An Author's Initials.

Initials are sometimes the resort of the writer who is anxious to conceal his identity, and a glance through any one of the 700 volumes that comprise the catalogue of the British museum reading room will discover some strange instances. A theological book, entitled "Inquiry Into the Meaning of Demoniacks In the New Testament," is attributed to T. P. A. P. O. A. B. I. C. O. S. Its real author was a certain Arthur Sykes, and the initials reveal his position as "the precentor and prebendary of Alton Borealis in the church at Salisbury."—London Chronicle.

Women Who Are Envied.

Those attractive women who are lovely in face form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

HOME ENDORSEMENT.

Hundreds of Wilmington Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Wilmington people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Wilmington reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterance of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

L. H. Partin, 7 So. Fourth St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I can say that Doan's Kidney Pills are a good remedy for the kidneys as I used them and know whereof I speak. My back was very weak and lame and I was bothered by pains across my loins. The kidney secretions were highly colored, contained a sediment and were very painful in passage. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I concluded to give them a trial and procured a box at Robert R. Bellamy's drug store. They acted just as represented and it was not long before I was entirely relieved."

ROOFING
B
Lumber is getting scarce and shingles are not only higher in price, but they are poor in quality.
When you put a roof on your building, it isn't temporary relief and a medium amount of satisfaction that you want, but permanent relief and complete satisfaction.
Amatite is a real mineral surfaced roofing. Get it and you will experience at once what roof satisfaction is and what roofing difficulties can be prevented.
You will find that it needs no painting or attention of any kind after it is laid.
It doesn't pay to patch old roofs when you can get a new Amatite roof at scarcely any greater cost.
Amatite is easy to lay and can be nailed on over the old roof without trouble.
Get a sample of Amatite and do a little investigating. It won't do any harm, and when your roof needs attention or you erect a new building you will be glad to use it.

EARTHQUAKES OF OLD

Strange Ideas of the Ancients as to Their Causes.

WARNING SIGNS OF SHOCKS.

Pliny Says They Were Shown In the Air, Clouds and Water and by Animals—The Two Mountains That Crashed Together and Then Receded.

If we search history to find to what causes the ancients attributed earthquakes we find that the Babylonians believed that all occurrences of the kind were due to the influence of the stars, especially of the three to which they ascribed thunder—namely, Saturn, Jupiter and Mars. The seers of the day believed that these disturbances were caused by the stars moving with the sun or being in conjunction with it, more particularly when the stars were in the quartile aspect.

Pliny chronicles the report concerning one Anaximander, a Milesian, who warned the Lacedaemonians to beware of their city and houses. And legend has it that the city was soon afterward destroyed.

Pliny, who wrote his natural history in A. D. 77, conceived that earthquakes were caused by the winds, as "the earth never trembles except when the sea is quite calm and when the heavens are so tranquil that the birds cannot maintain their flight, all the air which should support them being withdrawn. Nor does it ever happen until after great winds, the gust being pent up, as it were, in the fissures and concealed hollows."

Many scientists have observed that all great convulsions of nature are likely to be preceded by calms; also that birds and animals generally exhibit certain presentiments of the event, facts which the wise men of ancient days noted and accounted for in their different ways.

Pliny says: "When an earthquake occurs there is often sound without any motion. When there is motion it is tremulous and vibratory. The clefts of the earth sometimes remain, displaying what has been swallowed up, sometimes concealing it, the mouth being closed and the soil brought over it, the city being, as it were, engulfed, devoured. Maritime districts are more especially subject to shocks. Nor are mountainous districts exempt. I have found the Alps and the Apennines frequently shaken by them. The shocks happen more frequently in the autumn and the spring. They also happen more frequently in the night than in the day. The greatest shocks are in the morning and the evening, but they often take place at daybreak. They also take place during eclipses of the moon, because at that time storms are lulled. They are most frequent when great heat succeeds to showers or showers succeed to great heat."

Pliny further says: "There is no doubt that earthquakes are felt by persons on shipboard. There are many signs for the mariner beforehand, however. The timbers of the vessel creak. The birds that settle on the vessel are not without their alarms. There is also a sign in the heavens, for when a shock is near at hand, either in the daytime or a little after sunset, a cloud is stretched out in the clear sky like a long, thin line. The water in wells is more turbid than usual, and it emits a disagreeable odor."

In describing the various kinds of shocks and expanding on his investigations on the subject Pliny remarks that "arched buildings are the safest; also the angles of walls and walls made of bricks suffer least. The earth movement that resembles the rolling of waves is the most dangerous, or when the motion is impelled in one direction. The tremors cease when the vapors have burst forth, but if there be no escape of vapor of any kind then the tremors may continue for forty days. They have been known to continue for two years."

The historian records the greatest "prodigy of the earth" as having occurred in the district of Mutina during the consulship of Lucius Martius and Sextus Julius, when "two mountains rushed together, falling upon each other with a very loud crash and then receding, while in the daytime smoke and vapor issued from them." Pliny says the wonder was witnessed by "a great crowd of Roman knights and travelers along the Aemilian way."

The same writer says: "The greatest earthquake which occurred in our memory was in the reign of Tiberius, by which twelve cities of Asia were laid prostrate in one night. During the Punic war we had accounts of fifty-seven earthquakes in one year. Nor is it an evil merely consisting in the danger which is produced by the motion; it is an equal or greater evil when it is considered as a prodigy. The city of Rome never experienced a shock that was not the forerunner of some great calamity."

Pliny, of course, takes a good many of his accounts from Aristotle, but his references to events are confirmed by other writers. Herodotus describes a great disturbance in his day, when "the sea came beyond Memphis, as far as the mountains of Ethiopia, and also from the plains of Arabia. The sea also surrounded Ilium and the whole of Teuthrania and covered the plain through which the Meander flows." Pliny makes actual mention of one of the Aeolian islands having "emerged from the sea." It was a matter of common belief among the scientists of Pliny's day that Sicily was torn from Italy by such a disturbance.—New York World.

FIRST OF WEEK-END GUESTS.

Special Pullman Over Seaboard Air Line Yesterday From Atlanta.

The first special Pullman over the Seaboard Air Line this season for the week-end at Wrightsville Beach arrived yesterday, attached to the early afternoon train and bringing about 25 guests to spend some time at the Seashore and Tarrymore hotels at Carolina's favorite resort. The party went down on special cars of the Tidewater Power Company and considerably added to the number of guests at the hotels. The season, from all reports, has opened up much better than expected and the hotels will soon have as many guests as they can accommodate. Next week the South Carolina bankers will arrive.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Advertisers and those of our friends who have notices they desire to appear in any department of the paper are again reminded that under the new schedule of the Seaboard Air Line, reaching a larger proportion of our out-of-town patrons, it is necessary for the paper to go to press each morning nearly two hours earlier than heretofore. Advertisers and other friends are requested to let us handle their copy for them at the earliest possible moment before the date on which it is to be published, else we shall, in justice to our patrons by the early mails, be forced to carry matter over for the following day.

THE STRAWBERRY SEASON

Carolina Fruit and Truck Growers' Journal Discusses Lack of Complete Organization in Handling Crop—Retribution.

Quoting from the Fruit Trade Journal a signed card by twenty of the leading strawberry buyers and brokers at Chadbourn the past season, stating that the fruit had been loaded into the cars there in a dry, firm condition and under the most favorable circumstances, later reported from destination in "bad order" and mouldy, and suggesting that in the future some arrangement be made to place a man at each icing station to see that the cars are properly refrigerated in transit, the Carolina Truck and Fruit Growers' Journal of this city, discusses the situation in the following timely editorial:

"This is retribution thick and fast, fore and aft. As to the truth or falsity of the charge of improper refrigeration, we do not feel called upon to speak. Be that as it may, we have in the secretary's office of the East Carolina Truck & Fruit Growers' Association here, letters from some of the most reliable receivers and dealers at the other end of the line who reported a large part of their receipts in 'bad order' on arrival at destination. Whether this be true or not, we are not in position to testify under oath. Because of a lack of funds with which to carry on the Association's work this year as in the past, the organization was unable to locate inspectors on the large markets like New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Boston and elsewhere to guard individually the interests of the shipper. Therefore the statements of dealers must be accepted, whether true or false, as there is nothing else in evidence to the contrary.

"When the Association sought to carry forward to a successful and ideal conclusion the work originally designed for it in the conservation of the best interests of the growers directly and the buyers indirectly, and found it necessary to levy a tax of half a cent a crate on strawberries and vegetables, the buyers were among the first to register a protest and kick like Texas Bronchos against this assessment. This in due time nerved some of the growers to join in this unholy alliance and, combining, they succeeded in winning enough over to their side to defeat the whole measure, the penalty for which both are paying dearly today. In the meantime dealers are hit hard and feign ignorance as to the origin of the blow, while the growers are made to suffer jointly by lower prices and are ashamed to acknowledge what hit 'em.

"Had the Association been properly supported by both buyer and grower in the minimum assessment suggested, then there would have been some one on the ground to say under oath whether the cars were properly iced or not and whether the berries were in ideal condition when placed in the cars or in good or bad condition when received at point of destination.

"With no inspectors on the great Northern markets to keep tab on receipts and shipments and the condition at point of destination, no one was in position to question the veracity of statements of the dealers. Just so down this way—with no one down this way to personally supervise refrigeration, who is there to testify to the contrary only in an off hand way like the above?

"For these conditions, however, the buyers and growers have no one but themselves to thank. In trying to pull down the pillows of the Association they pulled down the temple of the organization upon their own heads in good old Sampson-like style. Now the only thing for all such to do, is to grin and bear it and take their medicine like a little tin soldier. It is said there is one class of people who will learn only in the school of experience and possibly this season's experience will teach them a most valuable lesson. There are exceptions, of course, and we only regret that all such have to share this misfortune equally with those who deserve no better.

"As to what produced or contributed mostly toward bringing about this unfortunate condition of affairs, we are rather disposed to let others speak than venturing our own opinions. It has come to pass, and that is enough. Entering the shipping season under chaotic conditions, with the Association's usefulness crippled and handicapped for want of funds, the growers found themselves very much at sea in the outset and accordingly three-fourths if not four-fifths of the berries were sold on the platforms. We all know the rest. Berries picked and packed for platform sales never measure up to the standard of those gathered for consignment. As a result the quality of fruit suffered this year, the buyers lost good money, nobody made anything, and in the end the growers shared liberally in the general losses without knowing what hit them. One of the leading growers in this territory ventured the opinion in the writer's office this week that the losses from this and other causes this year would more than foot up enough to run the Association at least five years. Chickens will come home to roost."

WHITE WASH FABRICS.

Hundreds and hundreds of yards of snowy billow white, clear and as spotlessly white as the fleecy clouds which hang over the snow-topped mountains. Sheer white Lawns and Swisses, soft lustrous Madras, and sturdy Suitings, of Flaxon, Linens and Linenes. Beautiful fabrics every one that sound the clarion note of desirability in Summer white stuff. White is always beautiful, always attractive and especially so at this season of the year when the sun nymphs dance on hill and plain. You love beauty, of course you do, then come revel in the beauties of artistic handicraft in beautiful cottons.

WHITE LAWNS.

Nothing ever seems to take the place of white lawn, Winter and Summer alike, but especially when Old Sol hovers overhead it is in great demand.

Its open texture, its sheerness makes it cool and comfortable at all times. Also it stands wear and tear well and for a host of other reasons it is without a peer for shirt waists and similar garments. We have a most complete line, 5c to 25c per yard.

KILLKENY WHITE LINEN SUITINGS
19c Quality Reduced to 12 1-2c.

'Twould be almost like carrying coals to New Castle to describe the beauties and the good qualities of Killkeny Linens to Wilmington women folks. There's not a one who doesn't know of its rugged, never wear out qualities, its ability to meet every test.

For that reason the news of this striking reduction in them should be most welcome. We doubt if they will linger long at the price. If you would save many a dollar toward the vacation fund come early.

WHITE MADRAS.
12 1-2c to 39c.

Madras with its soft, lustrous weave and texture is one of the leading candidates for Miladi's favor. It is here in a host of different weaves and designs ready to tempt with both beauty and price.

Its popularity depends upon its wonderful combination of beauty and strength, its ability to give wear and service. Come look the new stuffs over.

WHITE DOTTED SWISS.

The beauties of the dotted Swiss have been sung in song and story. There seems to be something about this dainty little weave that attracts everyone.

Yet, as one gazes on them, these early Summer days as they lay resplendent in the beauty of early Summer, one soon realizes why they hold so great a charm for even mere man.

The new Summer weaves await you 12 1-2 to 35c.

FLAXON SUITINGS.

The name Flaxon has swept the country from coast to coast and from the lakes to the gulf. Behind everything there is a reason and the reason in this case is thenatural hardihood of the fabric combined with its natural beauty. No sturdier suiting ever left the loom. Certainly none ever looked their worth more. 15c and 25c per yard.

WHITE LINENES.
36 inches 12 1-2c.

These hardy imitations are well in the van of popular favor this Summer. They are especially adapted for the tailored waists and suits and similar purposes.

Good sturdy threads, closely woven have formed a fabric which only experts can tell from real linen. If you want a fabric that will stand the hard knocks without showing the least wear, you should buy these white linenes.

LOCAL DOTS.

—There was no session of the Recorder's court yesterday, there being no cases on the docket for trial.

—The pastor and officers of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church request a full attendance of all members at the morning service tomorrow.

—Building Inspector H. E. Bonitz yesterday issued a permit to James Allen to erect a three-room, one story residence on Tenth, between Dawson and Wright streets, estimated cost of $300.

—Rev. M. L. Kesler, general manager of the Thomasville Orphanage, will occupy the pulpit of the First Baptist church tomorrow at both morning and evening services.

—The excursion up and down the river scheduled for last night on the steamer Wilmington under the auspices of Circle No. 1 of Grace Methodist Church, was postponed on account of the threatening weather.

—Mr. Benjamin Bell, Jr., will again be at the Seashore Hotel this Summer, having recently accepted the position as cashier and bookkeeper and has already entered upon his duties. He held this position last season and rendered most efficient service.

—One deed was filed for record yesterday as follows: George C. Simmons and wife to Fred W. Kuhl and and wife for $150, two lots, both on Bladen street, one being 111 feet east of Seventh street, 11 1-2x28 feet in size. The other lot is adjacent.

—Through an inadvertent omission of periods in several of the figures in the report of the county treasurer, published in yesterday's paper, the items appeared larger than they really are. Disbursements to magistrate should have read, $6.45; constable, $6.64; treasurer's commissions, $40.73.

—Lumberton Robesonian: "Mr. Frank Gough, of Lumberton, who was connected with the Seaboard for nine years, has been asked to get up an excursion in that road from Johnson City, Tenn., to Wilmington. It is probable that he will go to Johnson City some time soon to see about making the necessary arrangements."

—It was stated in yesterday morning's paper that at a joint meeting of the sewerage committee from the Broad of Aldermen and Board of Audit and Finance the contract was let for making the topographical map of the city and estimates on the present value of the sewerage system. The statement relative to a joint meeting was a mistake, it being a meeting of the members of Aldermanic committee only.

Sale of Hats at Solky's.

A large assortment of straw hats of good quality will be offered to the trade at a bargain at the well known clothing store of J. M. Solky & Co., today and Monday. ENJOYS KISSING MINISTER.

Negro Woman Says She Believes It Her Christian Duty.

Asserting that his wife belonged to a certain Wilmington church, one of the rules of which is that the female members of the congregation must kiss the minister whenever they meet him and allow him to wash their feet, a negro man appeared at Justice Bornemann's office yesterday morning and asked if he could do anything to aid him in redeeming his better half.

The justice sent for the woman and she obeyed the summons and upon entering the magistrate's office inquired what he wanted of her. The justice related the story told him by the husband. The woman declared that her husband was right in his statement and that she not only kissed the preacher whenever she got an opportunity, and allowed him to wash her feet, but expected to keep it up, her husband's objections to the contrary notwithstanding. With that statement and with a defiant air she left the office.

Mr. Horace D. Springer to Wed Miss Willis, of Yonkers, N. Y.

Mr. Horace D. Springer left last evening for Yonkers, N. Y., where he formerly resided and where on Wednesday evening of next week he will claim as a bride, Miss Henrietta H. Willis, an attractive young woman of that city. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Springer, parents of the prospective groom, are traveling North and will reach Yonkers in time for the wedding. Mr. Springer is a well known young business man of Wilmington and is associated with his father, the principal owner, in the extensive properties of the Springer Coal Company here. After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Springer will return to Wilmington where they will make their home in the future and where they will be most cordially received by their many friends.

The Presbyterian of the South.

Mr. G. A. McCallum, representing the Presbyterian of the South, Atlanta, Ga., is in the city for a week or ten days in the interest of that excellent publication. It will be recalled that the Synods of the several States a year or two ago effected a merger of the Southern Presbyterian, the Central Presbyterian and the new paper now occupies the field formerly held by those two. The Presbyterian of the South is a most excellent church publication and Mr. McCallum is meeting with much encouragement in his labors here.

Methodist Orphanage.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Methodist Orphanage in this State will be held at Raleigh on Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock, a call having just been issued by Mr. Jos. G. Brown, secretary and treasurer. Ex-Mayor Wm. E. Springer, of this city, is a member of the Board and expects to be in attendance. The orphanage has had a most successful year under the direction of Superintendent Cole and the meeting this year will be quite interesting.

Recovering From Operation.

Friends in the city will be pleased to learn that the condition of Mrs. J. E. Sues Lumber Company for Damages.

For alleged personal injuries received while in the employ of the company a few months ago J. C. Chestnut, colored, has entered suit in the Superior Court against the Waccamaw Lumber Company, of Bolton. The complaint has not been filed, but it is understood that damages in the sum of $2,000 will be asked. The plaintiff claims that he was severely and permanently injured in the shoulder by unprotected cogs at the defendant' saw mill at Bolton. C. D. Weeks and W. P. Mangum Turner, Esqs., represent the plaintiff.

Rain Beat In Library.

The rain storm about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon came up with such suddenness that the City Hall janitor did not have time to pull down the windows of the library on the second floor, and as a result the wind and rain beat in the room with considerable force, tearing the window shades from their fastenings, breaking several window lights and dampening many of the books. The janitor had the big windows up for the purpose of washing them. The wind was so strong that the occupants of the room at the time were very much frightened.

Funeral of Little Son.

The funeral services over the remains of Marion Bridgers, 18-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston B. WILL BE MARRIED SUNDAY

Miss Brady to Become Bride of Mr. Fisher, of West Virginia.

A marriage of much interest to many friends in this State and Virginia will be celebrated at the Church of the Good Shepherd Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock when Miss Bessie Brady, the attractive and accomplished daughter of Mrs. Sadie Brady, of 506 Church street, will become the bride of Mr. Clari Fisher, of West Virginia, a traveling salesman who has traveled this territory for some time and who is very popular with a large circle of friends. The beautiful ring ceremony of the Epicopal church will be used and Rev. Wm. E. Cox, pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church, will officiate.

The bridal party will enter the church to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Helen Hopewell. The bride will enter on the arm of her uncle, Mr. R. H. Brady, who will give her away. She will be attired in a going away gown of tan silk. The maid of honor, Miss Ella Brady, cousin of the bride, will be gowned in white silk batiste and will carry pink carnations. The bridesmaids, Misses Beulah Berry and Edith Brady, will wear white silk. Little Misses Nettie Ellis and Dorothy Berry will be flower girls and the ribbon bearers will be Juby Brady and Ernest Thomas. The bridegroom will be attended by his best man, Mr. Waddell, of West Virginia. Messrs. Gordon Brittain and Ralph Eakins will act as ushers.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple will drive to the station, where they will board the 7 o'clock northbound train for Norfolk, Va., where they will spend their honeymoon.

WILL TRY TO OUST NEGROES

Knights of Pythias to Take Legal Steps Against Negroes for Using Name and Insignia—The Orphanage Matter.

In all probability the colored lodges of the Knights of Pythias will not exist in North Carolina very much longer. The Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias, which has just adjourned in Hendersonville, took a very decided stand against the negroes and legal proceedings will be instituted to prevent them from further use of the name and insignia of the order.

To this end a strong committee was named to take the matter in hand and proceed as the mebers think best. The committee is composed of Messrs. M. W. Bell, of Murphy; J. C. Clifford, of Dunn, and P. S. Carlton, of Salisbury. The matter was not discussed at length on the floor of the convention as it had been thoroughly gone into privately by the different members. When the resolution was offered the members understood its meaning and passed it without any discussion. Some time ago the Supreme Grand Council issued a dispensation to the Grand Council of Georgia allowing it to take action in the State courts against the negroes of Georgia for using the name and insignia of the order, the Council winning it's suit recently. It is understood that the case will be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Grand Council of this State can take action against the negroes in either the State or Federal courts or go to the Legislature and ask that the charter be revoked. It is not known here what action the special committee proposes to take, but they will do whatever appears to be the wisest.

There are not a great many lodges in this State and it is not thought probable that a vigorous fight will be made by them. They may fight it for awhile but the opinion seems to be that they will eventually abandon the effort to continue the use of the name and insignia.

The negroes have no right whatever, say the Pythians, either under the charter of the order or the intentions of it to pretend to be members of the Knights of Pythias. The negroes make themselves very offensive to the Pythians by wearing the uniform and parading around as members of the order.

The local delegation to the Grand council returned yesterday afternoon with few exceptions and they are very loud in their praise of the western section of North Carolina and of the manner in which Hendersonville entertained her guests.

Members of the delegation stated that no effort was made to bring the next meeting to Wilmington in view of the fact that it is the policy of the Council to meet every other year in the central part of the State. The local members of the order think they will have no trouble in getting the 1911 meeting.

The principal matter for the consideration of the Grand Council was with reference to establishing an orphanage and two whole days were spent in discussing it. The idea was found to be feasible and a committee of four was appointed to take the matter in charge. The report of the special orphanage committee was adopted with one amendment as follows: "That the offer of Durham, 30 acres of land or $6,000 in cash together with option on 20 acres additional for $100, be adopted for the present, but that offers of ther cities may be considered by the trustees who make final choice within 60 days." The following were named as trustees of the orphanage: J. D. Pridgen, Durham, one year; G. Herbert Smith, Cronly, two years; Thos. H. Webb, Duke, three years; Rev. Dr. P. R. Law, Charlotte, four years. The trustees, after deciding upon the site, are to commence the construction of the buildings and will handle from $50,000 to $100,000 in the transaction.

The Grand Council did a wise thing in naming Mr. Smith, of Cronly, as a member of the board of trustees. Mr. Smith is a large fertilizer manufacutrer and is considered one of the best business men in this section of the State. The election is not only an honor to Mr. Smith, but is a great thing for the orphanage and the other trustees who will have the benefit of his recognized business ability in determining the many questions with which the board will have to deal.

WHY HE DOES IT.

It is not often that we have faith enough in the medicines put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said druggist J. Hicks Bunting to one of their many customers, "but we are glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that plan.

"The Dr. Howard Co., in order to get a quick introductory sale authorized us to sell the regular fifty cent bottle of their specific for half-price, 25 cents, and although we have sold a lot of it, and guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory.

There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and every one has more medical power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water.

"We are still selling the specific at half price, although we cannot tell how long we shall be able to do so. Any person who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this opportunity."

HOO-HOOS AT THE SEASHORE

The Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo, lumbermen and allied interests, such as railroad and newspaper men, held supreme sway at Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, yesterday and last night, the occasion being a special concatentation of the fraternity, which was attended by a large number of lumbermen and several representatives of the railroads. The occasion was a most enjoyable one for all and will be long remembered.

The representatives of the fraternity began to arrive in the city Thursday afternoon and yesterday morning there were quite a number of them gathered at the Seashore. Others arrived during the day and the time was most delightfully spent. The Hoo-Hoo is purely a social organization, the principles for which it stands being "Health, Happiness and Long Life," and those who were on the beach yesterday and last night certainly were happy.

There was some disappointment among the members of the order owing to the fact that some of the "Playful Kittens" were of a faint heart and could not undergo the initiative ceremonies while many others expected failed to make the desired railroad connections, hence this feature of the meeting had to be postopned to a future date.

Shortly after 9 o'clock Manager E. L. Hinton, of the Seashore, announced that the assembly room was ready for the banqueters and the members of the order and the visitors immediately left for the grand spread. After partaking of a most elegant repast the Vicegerent Snark F. G. Buhman called upon the several members and visitors present for speeches for the good of the order. Among those who responded were J. H. Andrews, of Raleigh, soliciting agent for the Southern Railway, who made an interesting talk on the order being followed by E. W. Richardson, of the Goldsboro Lumber Co., of Dover; E. B. Williams, J .K. Corbett, commercial agent of the Kanawha Dispatch; Herbert Parsons, Arthur Parsons, George D. Daniels, of Darlington, S. C.; C. S. Chamberlain, of Wilmington; R. W. Westbrook, F. G. Buhman and others, all of whom made splendid talks on the great social benefits of the order, which enjoys the distinction of being the only one of its kind in the United States.

The order was organized 19 years ago at Gurdon, Ark., with some five or six members. It is said that the idea of the order originated with a few persons who were delayed on account of a railroad accident. During the 19 years it has been in existence the membership has increased to 22,000 in the United States. The order has no State or local lodges, and the meeting of the members for a given territory is a special concatentation called by the Vicegerent Snark. The annual meeting of the National organization will be held in Arkansas September 9th, convening at 5:15 o'clock of that day.

Many of the Hoo-Hoos will remain in the city and on the beach today and tomorrow, returning to their respective places of labor on Monday. The representatives pronounce the gathering at Wrightsville one of the most enjoyable they ever attended.

THE VEGETABLE MARKET.

"Cukes" and Potatoes Commanding Good Prices—Shipments.

East Wilmington growers are very much gratified at the prices being commanded by vegetable shipments now going forward. J. F. Hobson, Philadelphia, yesterday quoted cucumbers at $1.50 per basket and potatoes were selling from $4 to $4.25 per barrel, if good sized. Potatoes brought last week as high as $4.50 but the shipping season is now in its second week and the decline of only 25c per barrel is very gratifying.

FINALS AT WEST POINT.

Secretary of War Dickinson Made Address at Commencement.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

West Point, N. Y., June 11.—Commencement day exercises were held at the United States Military Academy today. Secretary of War Dickinson presented the members of the graduating class with their diplomas and addressed them. Met by a cavalry detachment acting as an escort of honor, he was given a salute of seventeen guns upon reaching the superintendent's quarters and then witnessed a review of the entire cadet corps under the command of Lieutenant Colonel F. W. Sibley.

The exercises at Memorial hall were attended by a numerous throng which included many distinguished West Point alumni.

WOMAN CRUELLY MURDERED

Throat Cut and Body Thrown in Well. Five Under Arrest.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Columbia, S. C., June 11.—With a gash in the top of her head and with her throat cut from ear to ear the body of Victoria Griffin, a married woman of this city was found this morning in the well on her premises. In the kitchen of the woman's home were found a bloody razor, with which the murder evidently was committed. Three sons of the murdered woman—Walter, James and Russell Griffin, Luke Lewis, a friend of the dead woman's daughter and S. Wash Medlin, a former boarder at the woman's house are under arrest in connection with the murder.

A WELL PLEASED AUDIENCE

Mrs. Curtis Arnall-North's Elocution Class Gave Enjoyable Entertainment to Large Audience. Unqualified Success.

One of the most delightful entertainments of the season was that given in the Academy of Music last night by Mrs. Curtis Arnall-North's elocution class and a large and cultured audience spent nearly three hours of unalloyed pleasure as the different numbers on the excellent programme were rendered.

There was not dull moment during the evening, each of the participants winning a liberal share of the hearty applause of the evening. The entertainment deserves more than passing notice.

Not only were the various parts well spoken, but the action and interpretation of the several selections and the different roles were so good that often the audience was held spell-bound or convulsed with laughter. Between the acts Miss Mattie Maultsby gave some very enjoyable impersonations of the old-time mammy.

The programme opened with a dramatic and graceful recitation by Miss LaFrage, followed by Miss Isabel McDougall, a sparkling and dainty comedy, and Miss Mary Houston's tender and thrilling number, "Ole Mistis." The children's play, "Joe," was carried out in a manner that would have done credit to professional performers, each one deserving special mention. Miss Sallie Kingsbury, in the title role, was especially good, but the acting of the others made it hard to determine which was the best performer. The other characters were: "Mayorie ,her sister," Miss Mary Hall; "Kittie Blanchard, Joe's Cousin," Miss Gladys Twining; "Dolly Blanchard, Kitty's sister," Miss May Kingsbury; "Master Jack, Joe's brother," Avon Blue; "Master Sam, Kitty's brother," James Woolvin; "Micky Flynn, a bad boy," Clarence Sternberger; "Katy, a poor little girl," Miss Eunice Tucker; "Pussie, Katy's sister," Miss Marie Bonitz; "Mrs. Morton, Joe's mother," Miss Pauline Williams; "Mrs. Neal, Kitty's mother," Miss Hazel Winstead.

Part II, began with a pantomime, read by Mrs. North in a clear, full voice and acted by 12 young ladies in Grecian robes. This was a dream of grace and loveliness. Those taking part were "The Knight," Miss Mary Houston; "The Page," Miss Jean LaFrage; "Saracen," Miss Blanche Penny; Chorus, Misses Myrtle Vollers, Annie Leah Mercer, Marcelle Smith, Eunice Tucker, Anna Cavenaugh, Gladys Twining, Annie Futch, Pauline Williams and Hazel Winstead.

One of the most difficult and intensely dramatic single character number was "The Death Dream," a monologue from "The Bells," by Guy LeMoyne.

The last number, "The Obstinate Family," a one act sketch, was the climax of an evening of rare enjoyment. The cast of characters: "Henry Harford," William Corbett; "Jessie Harford," Miss Isabel McDougall; "Mr. Harwood, Harford's father-in-law," Guy LeMoyne; "Mrs. Harwood, Harford's mother-in-law," Miss Mary Houston; "James, a servant," Canova Peterson; "Lucy, a servant," Miss Mattie Maultsby.

The entertainment was also a success in a financial way, more than enough being received to pay the expenses. The remainder will go to charity.

WARM WIRELETS.

The annual convention of the Surfmen's Mutual Relief Association was brought to a close yesterday in Washington, with the selection of Newport, R. I., as the place for the next meeting, and the election of officers, among the number being James T. Wescott, of Popular Branch, N. C., secretary and treasurer.

After having re-elected all the old officers the sixteenth annual convention of the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association and the Southern Hardware Jobbers' Association was brought to a close at Pittsburg, Pa., last night. The joint convention of 1910 will be held at Atlantic City next June.

The village of Hillman, a few miles north of Smyrna Mills, Me., was destroyed by fire which swept down upon it from the forest late yesterday. The inhabitants, 50 in all, were saved by a special train. In all, 12 buildings were destroyed, but the financial loss will not exceed $20,000. Late tonight the flames were still raging furiously.

A Hungarian Dish.

Clean and truss a fat chicken. Stuff it with breadcrumbs, onion and herbs and bind together the stuffing with the yolks of eggs. Tie on the breast slices of lemon and salt pork, then wrap in oiled paper. Add one whole onion, one clove and some chopped parsley and enough white stock to cover it. Cook tightly covered for an hour. Strain the sauce, add one cupful of hot cream, some butter, the yolk of an egg, a little parsley and a liberal amount of paprika—enough to tint the sauce pink and to taste strongly of the condiment. Pour over the chicken when done and serve in a deep dish with a border of well cooked rice.—Good Housekeeping.

An Easier Method.

Not Handsome but Wealthy Bride (asking the question for the hundredth time or thereabouts)—Are you sure, perfectly sure, dear Albert, that you married me for myself alone, and not for my money? Dear Albert (who is getting somewhat weary of answering the same old chestnut)—Of course I am! If it had been only your money I wanted I would have tried burglary or some easier way of getting it.

Summary—2-base hits, Krebs and Smith; sacrifice hits, Smith and Jayes; stolen bases, Accorsini and Brodie; bases on balls, off Forbes 1, off Howard 2; struck out, by Forbes 4, by Howard 8; wild pitch, by Forbes 1, by Howard 1; time 1:40; umpire Carter; attendance 400.

Goldsboro Gains the Lead.

Goldsboro, N. C., June 11.—The sacrifice hits, a two-bagger and a single by the Giants aided by a pass and two errors by the Highlanders in the eighth inning gave Goldsboro four runs here today. Otis was as usual master of ceremonies allowing but six scattered hits, three of which were scratches. Muir only allowed six hits but they were bunched and cost him the game. Dobson was fined $5 and put out of the game for disputing a decision of the "Umps" in the eighth inning. Score:

Goldsboro	0	0	0	1	0	0	4	5	6	3
Fayetteville	0	0	1	0	0	0	2	0	6	4

Earned runs, Goldsboro 1; two-base hits, Moss, Smith; stolen bases, Sullivan, Lohr, Clemmons (2), Seal (3), Zanelli, Doak, Steinbach; bases on balls, by Otis 3, by Muir 2; struck out, by Otis 8, by Muir 2; umpire, McLaughlin; time 2 hours; attendance 750.

Two Pitchers at Raleigh.

Raleigh, N. C., June 11.—Raleigh has Crowell, pitcher for Wilson, to thank for the score of 5 to 2 against Wilson. The Red Birds pounded out all five runs in the first three innings. Then Lane succeeded Crowell and not another hit came the remainder of the game. Score:

Wilson	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	7	4
Raleigh	2	2	1	0	0	0	0	8	4

Batteries—Crowell, Lane and Holt; Brandon and Rowe; time 1:40; attendance 850; umpire Barre.

Diamond Dust

Four hits off Howard.

Patton will heave this afternoon and Conn will again don the mask.

Jupiter Pluvius ran a pretty strong bluff, but the game was played—and we won.

Fayetteville has released Third-baseman Fullmer, Catcher Duhrlin and Pitcher Kroh.

Conn, the new maskman, worked fast behind the bat, winging 'em down to 2nd like a shot and breaking up every attempt at larceny.

Guerrant has severed his connection with the Wilson team and will come with Wilmington, probably joining the team in Goldsboro Monday.

Hallman, Fayetteville's new port wheeler, proved himself Thursday to be a regular Giant killer, but the Highlanders dropped one to Goldsboro yesterday.

The Western North Carolina League has been organized, composed of teams from Asheville, Hendersonville, Waynesville and Canton, and the first games will take place on the 15th instant.

Curious Remedies.

Oil from the church bell and other queer remedies still have their faithful adherents, but nobody nowadays thinks of adopting such horrific nostrums as were solemnly recommended by a Sussex wise man who lived circa 1700. His prescription for whooping cough bade the nurse obtain three field mice, flaw (flay) them—let us hope he does not mean alive—and draw them. Roast one of them and let the party afflicted eat it. Dry the others in the oven till they crumble to powder and put a little of this powder into what the patient drinks at night and morning. The assumed eagerness of the patient to devour field mice is pathetic.—London Graphic.

London Fog.

A leading scientist has shown by photographs taken from a balloon that London fog extends sometimes to 2,500 feet above ground. Fog extending over an area thirty miles square and having a depth of a mile would require a good deal of mechanical effort to set in motion. The weight of the atmosphere is some fifteen pounds to the square inch. Four hundred cubic miles of it presses down with the weight of millions of tons, and all the power sunk by human endeavor in Great Britain's locomotives, automobiles and electric power and lighting works would not be sufficient to give it enough movement to clear it off for half an hour or half a minute.—London Answers.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Winston-Salem, N. C., June 10.—The R. J. Reynolds Company tonight awarded the contract to E. C. Bowman to erect the company's mammoth $100,000 tobacco manufacturing plant. It will be a big structure, 120x200 feet Construction work will begin in two weeks.

—Raleigh, June 10.—State Geologist Joseph Hyde Pratt and State Fish Commissioner Theodore S. Meekins leave for Washington today to see United States Fish Commissioner Bowers regarding the definite marking of fishing boundaries in eastern North Carolina waters.

—Mt. Olive Tribune, June 10.—Mr. J. E. Hall, local cotton buyer for Alex. Sprunt & Son, of Wilmington, requests the Tribune to state that no more cotton will be bought here until September 1st, when the new crop will begin to move. Owing to the good price paid for the staple recently very little cotton is now held by the farmers of this section.

—Mt. Olive Tribune: Mr. B. B. Gaskill, of Morehead City, has accepted the position as assistant cashier of the Bank of Mount Olive. Mr. Gaskill has had several years' experience in the banking business, and comes to Mount Olive highly recommended in this and other particulars. He is cordially welcomed by the people of the town.

—Raleigh News and Observer: Mr. J. E. Holmes, of Benson, is out $204 which mysteriously disappeared from his pockets while in Raleigh yesterday. He came to Raleigh to sell meat, and having brought hams, shoulders, sides and other things sold to Mr. M. Rosenthal and Mr. W. A. Simpkins, getting checks in payment. He cashed these and had $204 which he put in his back pocket, from which it disappeared.

—Pender Chronicle: Quit planting corn on land that will not make more than ten or fifteen bushels per acre, and put your time, labor and fertilizer on peas and potatoes. Potatoes on the same land will make 100 bushels while pea vine hay if given as good chance will produce between two and three thousand pounds of good forage worth about $25, besides benefitting the land You don't pay your board when you make only ten bushels per acres.

—Pender County Chronicle: The Pender Canning Co., of Curry, organized by Messrs. Geo. H. Highsmith and W. D. Nunalee promises to be one of Pender's pjermanent industries. They are growers and packers of the Mill Brook brand of fruits and vegetables, and are also to make a specialty of tomatoes. We welcome the new enterprise and hope that its success may be bounded only by the unlimited possibilities of our good county.

—Mt. Olive Tribune: The potato shipping season is now on in full blast in this section, and carload shipments are being made from Mount Olive every day. Prime potatoes are bringing from $2.50 to $3.00 per barrel on this market, and the prospects are good for a continuation of these prices. The yeld this season is considered good. In fact, there is every indication now that the potato crop this season will yield handsome returns to our truckers.

—Newbern, N. C., June 10.—The authorities have again become active in running down blind tigers, and last night Thaddeus Wallace was arrested and 72 half pint bottle containing liquor were confiscated. He was given a hearing today and held under $75 bond for trial in the Superior court. Joe Morris, a State's witness in this case, was arrested for perjury immediately after the trial. Two other suspicious places were invaded but no liquor could be found and no arrests were made. Richard Grady, colored, was arrested in Garysville by U. S. Deputy Marshall Lincoln for selling liquor without having a U. S. license.

—Greensboro, June 10.—In Jefferson township last night, fifteen miles from Greensboro, Deputy Sheriffs Weatherly and Crutchfield, made the first blockade distillery raid under state laws, since the legislature made provision for paying sheriffs $20 dollars for each still captured. The owners and operators were not captured, but the officers obtained enough evidence to convict them, at least in the Federal court. The still was of 60 gallon capacity and a lot of beer was poured out through no whiskey was found. Even the worm of the still was nonpresent, the operators seemingly removing it after making a "run."

—Mt. Airy, N. C., June 10.—This evening at 5:15 o'clock, Mr. Jesse L. Bunker, a mute, son of Chang Bunker, one of the late Siamese Twins, was instantly killed by lightning while at work in his corn field. He lived two miles west of this city. At the same time four cattle were killed by lightning on the farm of Mr. S. C. Franklin, a near neighbor of Mr. Bunker. The belt or force, struck Mr. Bunker on top of the head, tearing his clothes up considerably. His wife has been very sick for several days and it is feared the terrible shock will be more than she can bear. The deceased belonged to the Baptist church and was highly respected.

A Thrilling Rescue.

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheny, Wash. was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am as well as ever." For Lung Trouble, Bronchitis, Coughs and Colds, Asthma, Croup and Whooping Cough its supreme. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

SPOTTING CRIMINALS

Plans of London Shops and Banks For Foiling Thieves.

A CODE OF SECRET SIGNALS.

The Moment a Suspect Is Discovered In an Establishment the Warning Is Quickly Given to the Employees, Who Are Instantly on the Alert.

"Do you know if Brown has returned that parcel of stones yet?"

The scene may be the shop of a fashionable west end jeweler. Costly gems glint in velvet lined cases. One frock coated shopman turns casually to another with the perfectly natural question quoted above.

To those customers who may be in the establishment the remark means nothing, but to the man who is addressed it spells volumes. "Brown" is a secret code word, and it means that the elegantly clad woman to whom the speaker is displaying a tray of sparkling stones is suspected by him of being a thief and that her every action must be watched.

Quite recently in connection with a terrible outrage in the west end of London, in which an unfortunate money changer was done to death in his office by a desperate robber, the fact was disclosed that in the case of a sudden attack it had been arranged that one of the assistants should employ the "distress signal" of hurling a brass paperweight through the window of the office.

Although most people are quite unaware of the fact, practically every banker, money changer and jeweler in the fashionable quarter of the metropolis has some prearranged code by which one employee may warn his fellows that a dubious character has entered the establishment.

In one well known bank this is the system adopted: Should a cashier's suspicions be aroused by the actions or speech of a man upon the other side of the counter he will step across in a perfectly innocent way to a certain desk which stands quite apart from the others. The custodian at the doorway sees the action, knows its significance and is instantly on the alert.

In the case of another bank the cashier whose suspicions are aroused need not even move away from his desk to warn the watcher. The scheme employed is this: Along the guarding rail of the counter are a series of plates bearing the word "Prayer" or "Receiver," according to the duties of the cashier in each particular section.

These, by design, are all placed slightly askew. Should one of the officials behind the desks suspect the good faith of an individual to whom he is attending all he has to do in order to place the patrol in uniform upon the qui vive is to reach up a leisurely hand and turn one of these plates so that it is in a perfectly straight line with the rail from which it projects.

The ingenuity of this idea lies in the fact that, while the action is perfectly natural, it is so unmistakable that even when the bank is full of people it cannot fail to be observed by the man who is upon the lookout.

Quite the most elaborate system of which details are obtainable is that installed by a firm of electrical engineers for one prominent west end jeweler. The manager who is on duty sits at a glass screened desk in the rear of the shop in such a position that, while scarcely being seen himself and certainly without making any movement, he has an absolutely unimpeded view of every counter and show case.

Near him, on a small board, shielded from view, is a row of tiny red electric light bulbs. One corresponds to the position of each of the suave assistants who attends to the wants of the jewel buying public. Sunk in the floor, near the foot of each assistant, is a button, and his duty is done when, should he think a customer he is serving may not be "on the square," he places his foot on this convenient button. The little glow lamp lights up at the other end of the wire, and the manager's attention is promptly focused in the direction indicated.

Should his keen scrutiny reveal an actual theft from the articles displayed on the counter or from some unprotected tray he himself presses a button as the thief turns to leave the shop. This serves to warn a smart attendant who is on duty at the portals, and the wrongdoer finds his or her pathway barred without a word having been uttered or sign of warning given.—London Answers.

The Oldest Universities.

The earliest date which any university puts forth is that which Cambridge makes that it was founded about 635. Its continuous history dates, however, from 1109. Paris was founded in 792 and renovated in 1200. Oxford dates back to an academy mentioned as ancient in 802; the schools were founded by King Alfred about 870, and King Henry III. granted the charter in 1248. Bologna dates from 1116. Salamanca was founded in 1289. —Argonaut.

To the SMALL MERCHANT,

Dear Sir:—If you buy money orders in making remittances, or register letters containing currency, you are practicing extravagance, and at the same time people to whom you remit form the impression that you are not well informed as to proper business methods.

If you will open a checking account at this bank and pay every bill with your own check, you will not only save many dimes and quarters that now go to waste, but will establish yourself with the only class of merchants which succeed—they all use their own checks in remitting.

There is another and more valuable feature—the bank will practically keep your cash account, and the bankbook, balanced each month, will show how much money you took in, how and to whom you paid it, and how much is left.

Call at our bank and receive instructions and a nice check book free.

Yours truly,

THE SOUTHERN NATIONAL BANK.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 11.—The cotton market was nervous and unsettled today and while the closing tone was steady last prices showed a net loss of 8 to 12 points. The opening was steady at a decline of 4 points on November, but generally unchanged to 2 points higher in response to steady Liverpool cables. Early fluctuations were somewhat irregular but the market eased off under selling by western interests, scattering liquidations and local bear pressure which was encouraged by good weather reports, the absence of bull support and apprehensions of further weakness in July.

After showing a net loss of about 5 to 6 points the market rallied to practically the closing figures of yesterday on private reports of rain in the central belt, but the detailed weather reports showed no important precipitation in this section which the indicated a continuation of beneficial showers in Texas. These advices were followed by a private cable from Liverpool stating that a committee of the master cotton spinners association had unanimously advised short time in Lancashire beginning at once and had called a meeting for next Friday to consider the proposition. Between the good weather and this report heavy selling occurred apparently for both accounts and at one time during the afternoon the market showed a net loss of 10 to 13 points. Only a slight improvement resulted from covering at the close.

Southern spot markets officially reported early were generally unchanged.

Receipts at the ports today were 5,685 bales against 15,304 last week and 9,983 last year. For the week 55,000 bales, against 59,361 last week and 64,644 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 89 bales, against 4,489 last year and at Houston 575 bales against 1,007 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet 10 points lower. Middling uplands 11.20; middling gulf 11.45. No sales.

Futures opened and closed steady.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 11.—The cotton goods market continues firm and active in the primary division. Cotton yarns are in better inquiry but prices ruled very low and irregular. The president of the American Woolen Company announces that the prices on spring 1910 goods will be the highest ever quoted by the company and they will be guaranteed for the whole season.

MARKET GOSSIP.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 11.—The deflection of today's stock market threw no conclusive light upon the state of speculative opinion beyond the uncertainty that occurred in the constant fluctuations of prices. The marked contraction in the volume of the market at the same time was an additional symptom of the disinclination to assume a definite attitude in the speculation.

United States Steel was almost immovable. Colorado and Southern dropped three points because the directors refrained from declaring a dividend yesterday. There were declines in other stocks still in Hawley control. There was another variation in the opposing movements of the Harriman Pacifics, Southern Pacific taking up the advance, while Union Pacific became reactionary. Wabash preferred was a strong feature with the repetition of the still unconfirmed rumor of absorption by the Lackawanna.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, were $5,576,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call Total sales today were 769,900 shares.

—Goldsboro Argus: "Rev. A. B. Crumpler, of Sampson county, the apostle of the Pentecostal Holiness doctrine, which he originated and has been preaching with great power and some following throughout this section of the State, having at one time taken such a hold in this city that a Pentecostal Holiness Church was built here for his benefit and he made resident pastor, which church subsequently passed into the ownership of the Society of Friends, by whom it is now regularly used, has publicly recanted this doctrine and is going back to fellowship with his first love, the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and he publicly asked all his followers to go and do likewise—that is, return to the churches with which they formerly affiliated before coming to his fold.

—Rowland Sun, June 10.—The reorganization of the Rowland Ginning and Seed Co., has been perfected, and work will begin in a few days on the building, which will be brick and large enough to increase the capacity at any time. The capital stock is nearly twice what it has been and practically all has been subscribed. All the old stockholders except two have retained their stock and a good many others have come in. The local stockholders have a controlling interest. On yesterday quite a number of representatives of factories or mill machinery were here to sell the necessary machinery. The new mill will have a capacity of 40 tons. The mill will be modern in every respect. It will be located on the site of the one recently burned.

Why Is Sugar Sweet?

If sugar did not dissolve in the mouth you could not taste the sweet. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is as strong as the strongest bitter tonic, but you do not taste the bitter because the ingredients do not dissolve in the mouth, but do dissolve readily in the acids of the stomach. Is just as good for Grown People as for Children. The First and Original Tasteless Chill Tonic. The Standard for 30 years, 50c.

Gould she was actually without provisions.

Delancey Nicoll questioned Mrs. Gould about the Blue Gap farm near Lynchburg, and the witness said she paid $38,000 for it.

After Mrs. Gould had told what she had taken from Castle Gould to the Lynchburg farm, Mr. Nicoll asked the witness her age, but the court excused her from answering that or from telling where she was born.

Mr. Nicoll asked the witness if she had ever traveled with a Wild West show. Mrs. Gould replied that she had traveled once with Miss Ada Cody and had accompanied the show to Naples, Rome and other European cities. She had seen a good deal of Colonel Cody, as he was her manager, and she had frequently to consult him, she said.

Mr. Nicoll next questioned Mrs. Gould about her residence in the St. Regis Hotel in New York in August, 1906. Mrs. Gould said she often had company in her rooms there for luncheon and dinner and that Dustin Farnum, the actor, had dined with her at the St. Regis.

Mrs. Gould said she met Mr. Farnum at Castle Gould in the Fall of 1906. This happened when a conveyance in which Mrs. Gould was riding collided with a truck somewhere between New York and Jamaica. Replying to questions, Mrs. Gould said she did not go to a roadhouse and supper with Mr. Farnum after the collision, but after visiting Castle Gould they stopped at a roadhouse on the Vanderbilt cup course, and had some refreshments brought out to them but did not enter the house.

Mrs. Gould said she could not recall whether she had anything to drink then but declared that it would not have been unusual. With Mr. Farnum, Mrs. Gould said she returned to the St. Regis hotel about 11 o'clock that night and Mr. Farnum accompanied her to her apartments for a few minutes and then went to his own rooms.

ARTILLERY MANEUVERS.

Reserves Still Showing Up Well at Fort Caswell—Wilmington Boys.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fort Caswell, N. C., June 11.—The boys of the State military had the big guns all to themselves this morning, the regulars simply standing by watching, and by their work they showed that though they are not following the handling of those big death-dealers as a profession, still they could, on short notice, in case some other nation attempted to pass their batteries make that attempted passage very disagreeable and costly for the would-be invaders.

Not only at the guns was the good work evident, but at the plotting boards, where the theoretical part of the work takes place, and where the range direction and so forth, are worked out and sent to the guns, from which data the latter are laid and fired. Those stations were also manned, and manned well by the reserves, and their work was extremely gratifying.

At the parade yesterday evening the reserves showed a great improvement over the previous evening and before the ten days are over they will be second to none in this work.

The Wilmington boys were on the 8-inch guns again, and again did themselves credit in every department and Wilmington can well be proud of her boys in khaki. For deportment, discipline and general all-around soldiery they are excellent.

The weather man has been very good since the beginning of the encampment, the weather having been ideal, and the boys are making the best of the opportunity when off duty to go surf bathing, ball playing and viewing the surrounding country, which, by the way, is nearly all "salt sea" and "Southport" and, as one of the boys remarked, one is as pleasant to look at as the other, to which all agreed.

The Ft. Caswell Band is arranging to give the boys an open air concert some evening soon. The boys are anxiously awaiting Sunday, on which day the Wilmington girls are coming to see their "warriors bold" and a big reception is awaiting them.

MONUMENT TO STEPHEN LEE.

Unveiled to Confederate General at Vicksburg Yesterday.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Vicksburg, Miss., June 11.—Several thousand Confederate veterans witnessed the unveiling of the heroic statue to General Stephen Dill Lee here today. The splendid monument, designed by Kitson, stands in the National park upon the exact spot from which General Lee directed the movement of his troops during the siege of Vicksburg.

Vicksburg had been preparing for the dedication for months. The town was gayly decorated with flags and bunting, the Stars and Bars and the Stars and Stripes always entwined.

The parade formed at noon and headed by General Frederick D. Grant, U. S. A., and an escort of cavalry, proceeded to the National park. The Warren light artillery fired a general salute and then Henry Watterson called the assembly to order.

As Mr. Watterson ceased speaking two little boys unveiled the statue. They were John G. Lee and Lee Harrison, grandsons of General Lee, while the general's son, Blewett Lee, of Chicago, stood at the side.

When the enthusiasm had died down General Clement A. Evans, commander-in-chief of the Confederate Veterans, formally presented the statue to the Federal government on behalf of the people of Mississippi and the Confederate Veterans.

SOUTH CAROLINA BANKERS

Secretary Wilson Writes Enthusiastically of Convention Here.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Spartanburg, S. C., June 10.—Secretary Wilson, in an address to the bankers of South Carolina says of the Wrightsville Beach meeting next week:

"From information in hand the indications are that we will have the largest crowd we have ever had. Many are going in advance of the special, others will travel by different roads, and still others will arrive on later trains. Over 200 South Carolinians are expected, many from North Carolina and the usual number or more of representatives from the larger banks in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Richmond and other cities. A few of our loyal Georgia brethren will also be there, among them the popular Groover, of Savannah. A larger number of ladies have promised to be present than we have had at any previous meeting. It is 'up to you' to either bring your girl along, or locate her promptly after arrival. 'Wifeless' husbands and 'girlless' bachelors are going to be mighty lonesome at Wrightsville.

"Each bank in the State should have one or more representatives present. If not an active officer, then a director. And the regular representative should have his expenses paid by his bank. I am informed the majority of the banks now do this. It is the best investment they can make. It pays rich returns in good work and improved ideas. Read what the Secretary of the sister Association says one of his members told him: 'A gentleman known to most of you and a prominent member of this Association, said to me recently,' 'Why, sir, if it hadn't been for the State Association and acquaintance it has given me, I should be known to only a few of the bankers in the towns around me, and should have had no knowledge of the opportunities that have come to me in the past few years.' This gentleman has been eminently successful at the head of a thrifty bank and as well in his private affairs. He gives the Association credit for it."

The Lincoln Lithia Inn, Lincolnton, N. C., now open to the public. Best Lithia Water. First-class accommodations. Ask Holmes Grocery Co., about the water. je 12-tu-thu-st-13t

The Snipe's Bill.

The thrush catches such worms as rashly show themselves above ground, but an ancient ancestor of the snipe found that if it followed them into marshy lands it could probe the soft ground and drag them out of their chambers. For this operation it has now a bill three inches long, straight, thin and sensitive at the tip, a beautiful instrument, but good for no purpose except extracting worms from soft ground. If frost or drought hardens the ground the snipe must starve or travel.—London Strand Magazine.

"I began the career of crime," said the famous criminal, "when I married the second time."

"Did your second wife lead you astray?" asked the visitor.

"Not so much as the first one. It was she who preferred the bigamy charge."—Stray Stories.
